Would you pass or fail?

Living on an island means we're on our own in the event of an earthquake or other disaster. Getting ready doesn't need to be difficult.

Begin now by taking some simple steps to ensure you can keep you and your family warm, fed, healthy, and hydrated. The islands need to be able to survive a week or more on their own.

Doing nothing
means you're counting
on others to take care
of you. The island way
is to be prepared.
Keep it simple,
start today.
